

See Another Side of Southern California

An easy 45-minute drive from Los Angeles, Conejo Valley offers all of the fun yet none of the crowding of nearby destinations. Here, visitors can relax and unwind as they experience Conejo Valley's unique local venues and drivable day trips. Whether it's hiking through idyllic nature preserves, biking through the canyons to the ocean or enjoying a day of pampering and world-class dining and shopping, Conejo Valley has something for everyone.

QUICK FACTS

- Total population: 157,468 people
- Weather: 347 days of sunshine a year
- Lodging: 16 lodging properties, 2,000+ hotel rooms
- Restaurants: nearly 400 unique dining options
- Outdoor recreation: 140 miles of public multi-purpose trails
- Location: approximately 35 miles northwest of Los Angeles, 385 miles south of San Francisco and 10 miles inland from the beaches of Malibu

GEOGRAPHIC AREA

Conejo Valley prides itself on offering a special balance of urban amenities and wide-open spaces. Comprised of two cities - Thousand Oaks and Agoura Hills - Conejo Valley is a highly prized vacation destination in Southern California.

CLIMATE

Boasting some of the finest weather in the country, the area enjoys a sunny, mild climate. With average winter temperatures in the mid-50s and average summer temperatures in the mid-70s, Conejo Valley is an ideal place to visit.

ACCOMMODATIONS

From luxury hotels to family-operated inns and motels, Conejo Valley offers 16 welcoming lodging options to meet any traveler's taste or budget.

DINING AND TASTING

Conejo Valley serves up one of the widest ranges of cuisine in the area from casual eateries and family restaurants to fine dining. In addition, beer and wine lovers will delight in craft brews and local tastings.

WEDDINGS

A popular destination for weddings, Conejo Valley has it all from picturesque and rustic rural settings to glamorous and opulent indoor venues. The wide range of activities in the area complete a memorable wedding experience.

MEETINGS AND EVENTS

With its variety of lodging and event space and its close proximity to Los Angeles, Conejo Valley has caught on as a unique and cost-efficient location to host meetings and other professional gatherings. From a day at the golf course to a team-building hike or trail ride, Conejo Valley offers numerous activities to bring out the "fun" in any function.

OUTDOOR RECREATION

With approximately 12,000 acres of open space, Conejo Valley is the perfect destination for active outdoor enthusiasts. Visitors can soak in the majestic views as they hike, bike or horseback ride through the area's 140 miles of public multi-purpose trails.

SPORTS

Conejo Valley's sporting facilities like Mamba Sports Academy are among the best in California. The easy access from nearby Los Angeles and the beaches of Malibu combined with reasonable lodging rates make Conejo Valley a desirable place to hold sporting events of all kinds.

ATTRACTIONS

Featuring historical museums, shopping, arts and culture and events, Conejo Valley appeals to any visitor. It's the perfect tourist destination for a daytrip, romantic getaway, family vacation or group outing.

