Conejo Valley: Home to Southern California's Top Outdoor Adventures

The perfect Southern California getaway is just a 45-minute drive from Los Angeles. Known for its wide-open spaces, Conejo Valley is an ideal socially distant escape. With nearly 12,000 acres of open space, visitors can experience various outdoor adventures by hiking, biking or horseback riding. Whether you're a fan of ocean views or spotting wildlife, there are 140 miles of trails to explore with options for everyone. Up for a challenge? Make your way to Sandstone Peak, the highest point in the Santa Monica Mountains. Just a short drive away, catch a wave at Zuma Beach, one of the largest beaches in LA County. Looking for a little vino with your adventure? Enjoy hiking, e-biking, four-wheel driving or a safari ride with Malibu Wine Hikes, Malibu Bike Tours or Malibu Wine Safaris. All include exploring the rolling vineyards of Saddlerock Ranch, visits with exotic animals and exquisite wine tastings.

Under-the-Radar Attractions and Culinary Experiences in Conejo Valley

Conejo Valley offers all of the fun yet none of the crowds. Visitors can relax and unwind as they experience the region's unique local venues and vibrant culinary scene. First, get a taste of international travel and explore the various cultures at Gardens of the World. Continue your adventurous trip with robata grill offerings at Tavern Tomoko & Ladyface Brewing or head to The Old Place, nestled in the Santa Monica Mountains, for food cooked over an open fire straight out of an Old West movie. To build up another good appetite, head to the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library and Museum, where you can walk onboard the actual Air Force One aircraft that flew seven U.S. presidents and explore a replica of the White House Oval Office. The Reagan Library and Museum is also opening a new exhibit that will showcase the FBI.
